

All in A Comic

An activity of "A heartwarming family reunion "

The story of Saroo Brierley is an amazing one. After being adopted by an Australian couple and living there for 25 years, Saroo looks for his birth family in India. It shows us what is possible when we have determination and patience. Capture this story in a comic strip and share it with your family and friends.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. FORM groups of three or four students. READ "A heartwarming family reunion" (page 12-13, What's Up March 2017). Visualise the events in your mind's eye.
2. PLAN eight scenes of your comic strip before drawing it. Use this table to help you.

Scene	Where did this take place?	Who were in this scene?	What happens in this scene?	Who says what in this scene?

3. DRAW the comic on a sheet of poster paper. Use speech bubbles (  ) for the talking parts.
4. PRESENT your work to the class – show them the comic strip and read the dialogue and captions aloud to tell this wonderful story.
5. PHOTOGRAPH your comic strip and email the image to letters@whatsup.sg to share it with other What's Up readers. Remember to add your full name, class and school in your email.
