

Venn Diversity

An activity of "eSports is here to stay"

In the April issue of What's Up, our sports columnist Omar Chaudhuri writes about a different kind of competitive game – eSports. He gives us an update of eSports and compares it to other types of sporting events. Make meaning of his article by using the Venn diagram below to compare and contrast eSports with two other sports.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Read "eSports is here to stay" (page 22, What's Up April 2017). Working in pairs, pick two sports that both of you enjoy playing or watching. Gather as much information as you can about all three from library books, surfing the internet and asking adults.
2. DISCUSS with your partner what these three sports have in common with one another, each other, as well as what is unique about each. In point form, plug these commonalities as well as differences in the correct sections of the Venn circles below.

3. SHARE your Venn diagram with your class. Talk about what this activity was like for you.