

If Photos Could Speak

An extension of "Thousands forced to flee army attacks in Myanmar"

Read "Thousands forced to flee army attacks in Myanmar" (page 1, What's Up September 2017). Have you heard people say that a picture can speak a thousand words? Pictures do tell us a lot. Take a good look at the photo on page 1 and lend your voice to it — have a conversation with a friend about what you see. Talk about your thoughts and feelings. Here is a cropped version of that photo. To get you started on your conversation, ten arrows point to specific details about this fleeing group of people. When you have your conversation, use the photo in What's Up as it is in full colour and larger than the one here. Also, if you have other observations, you don't have to talk about what the arrows are pointing to.
