

My Hero

An extension of "Breaking to the top"

“Breaking to the top” features the profile of Hong 10, a two-time world champion breakdancer (see pages 20–21, What’s Up July 2018). Hong 10 is a role model for many breakdancers. Do you have a similar role model for your favourite activity? Answer the questions below in point form. You may find the answers on the internet. Then, use the points to write a profile, in full sentences, of your role model. Remember to give it an eye-catching title!

My favourite activity
Name and age of my role model for this activity
Where is he/she from?
How did he/she get started in the activity?
How does he/she prepare for the activity?
Has my role model won any awards or prizes for this activity? If so, what were they?
Why do you say this person is your role model for your favourite activity?
How have you gained from having this person as your role model?
Do you wish you were more like your role model? If so, in what ways?	