

Name: _____

Class: _____ Date: _____

When Did It Happen?

An extension of "Doctor on the move"

Transition words are used to link sentences and paragraphs together smoothly. Sometimes, they tell you the order of events. The sentences given below are taken from "Doctor on the move" (pages 6–7, What's Up July 2018). Each sentence features a transition word in bold. Read the article. Then, form an original sentence with each transition word, taking care to use the correct tenses.

| No. | Sentence in the What's Up story | My original sentence |
|-----|--|----------------------|
| 1 | After studying medicine, Dr Nadirah Babji decided to explore the world. | After |
| 2 | When I helped them, people would offer to let me stay at their homes. | When |
| 3 | Towards the end of my one-month stay in Turkey, there was an urgent cry for doctors to help out at the Greek-Macedonian border. | Towards the end of |
| 4 | Once I started working with refugees, I realised that this is what I want to do in life. | Once |
| 5 | While waiting for her housemanship, she decided to see more of the world. | While |
| 6 | Since December last year, she has been working for NGOs in Bangladesh. | Since |
| 7 | Whenever someone crossed the border, the snipers would shoot at them. | Whenever |