

Design a Martian City

An activity of "Mission to Mars"

Read "Mission to Mars" and "Travelling to Mars? Here's what to expect" (page 12-13, What's Up February 2019).

The conditions on Mars are very different from those on planet Earth. However, many people believe that, in the future, it will be possible for humans to live on Mars. Imagine that your job is to design the first Martian city. Using the space provided below,

- a) design what you think a city on Mars would look like
- b) label the different parts of your city — the roads, buildings, open spaces, and so on
- c) have a welcome sign with your city's name at its entrance.
