

Name: _____

Class: _____ Date: _____

Local... really?

An extension of "Made in Singapore"

Read "Made in Singapore" (page 12, What's Up April 2019). Doesn't it make us proud when we find great quality goods that are made in Singapore? Let's discover more.

1. In the table below are descriptions of some things made locally. The brands (under which these are marketed) or the producers of these items are given as gap fill. The vowels are missing. Look for these products at local supermarkets. Read the labels on the items there to look for the answers. Work in pairs to fill in the missing vowels.

Item Description	Brand or Producer
a. Fresh vegetables like baby kai lan, xiao bai cai, baby spinach, red spinach, kang kong, grown through hydroponics, aeroponics and other innovative means.	Producer: _ h _ F _ rms Brand: P r _ m _ _ m
b. Oyster sauce, light and dark soya sauce, black pepper sauce, sesame oil, and a variety of other sauces.	Brands: 1. W _ h _ H _ p 2. T _ _ H _ _
c. Farm fresh eggs. The labels say the eggs are lower in cholesterol.	Brands: 1. S _ n g _ C h _ _ n 2. Ch _ w 's
d. Canned fruits like lychee, longan, rambutan, pineapple, peach, fruit cocktails, and many more.	Brands: 1. H _ s _ n 2. M _ l _
e. Crocodile flank meat	Brand: Cr _ c _ F _ rm
f. Vacuum-sealed frog meat	Brand: J _ r _ ng _ Fr _ g _ F _ rm
g. Packaged instant Asian foods which are very laborious to make like beef rendang with rice, nonya sambal chicken with rice, and chicken curry with rice.	Brand: P r _ m _ _ T _ s t _
h. Assorted biscuits in a variety of flavours traditionally sold in iconic tins and now also in packets.	Brand: Kh _ ng _ G _ _ n
i. A medicated oil used for almost all common ailments: blocked nose, insect bites, cold, headache, giddiness, pain.	Brand: _ x _ _ Br _ nd _ _ l

2.
 - a. Of the products above, how many did you know were made in Singapore?
 - b. What is your view of Singapore-made products now?
 - c. Do you feel differently when you know that the products you are using are made in Singapore? Explain.
3. Share your thoughts with the class. Each pair takes three minutes to share.