

All in A Comic

An activity of "Video Assistant Referee: the good and the bad"

Read "Video Assistant Referee: the good and the bad" (page 21, What's Up July 2019). The article shares several examples involving VAR in football. Select any one of the incidents. Capture the story in a comic strip and share it with your family and friends. Work in pairs.

1. PLAN what to include in your comic strip before drawing it: use this table to help you.

Panel	Where is this scene taking place?	Who are in this scene?	What happens in this scene?	Who says what in this scene?

2. Draw the comic on a sheet of poster paper. Use speech bubbles () for the talking parts.
3. Present your work to the class. Read the dialogue and captions aloud to your classmates to tell the VAR story.
4. Photograph your comic strip and email the image to letters@whatsup.sg to share it with other What's Up readers. Remember to add your full name, exact class, and school as well.
