

Name: _____

Class: _____ Date: _____

Say It Differently

An activity of "Students march in protest"

"Students march in protest" (page 1, What's Up August 2019), is about young students rising up against what they feel are injustices. Individually, read it carefully.

Instructions

1. The sentences below are taken from the article above. In pairs, rewrite each as a single sentence using the given starting words and without changing its meaning.

a. Secondary school and college students in several countries have been taking part in big protests to show their governments how unhappy they are.

To express _____
_____

b. They feel this is the only way the people running their country will listen to them.

It is their _____

c. In Hong Kong, there have been big protest events every week since early June.

Since early _____

d. The law would have given China more power over the city.

China would _____

e. Hong Kong is part of China, but the city is supposed to have special freedoms to run itself.

_____ which _____

f. The Hong Kong government does not have a big public housing programme like Singapore's HDB. As a result, most young Hongkongers cannot dream of owning a comfortable flat of their own.

The main reason _____
_____

g. People are not happy that military generals are in charge of the country and not sharing power quickly enough.

There is _____
_____