

Name: _____

Class: _____ Date: _____

A Podcast Interview

An activity of "Working with the Orang Asli to improve their lives"

"Working with the Orang Asli to improve their lives" (page 16, What's Up February 2020) tells of a social enterprise — a business set up to benefit the community. They do this by providing jobs for people in poverty or saving the planet.

1. Pretend that you and a classmate have been tasked to conduct a podcast interview with Mr Teoh. Try to picture Daniel Teoh's journey as he worked towards building his social enterprise, Native.
2. Prepare for the interview. What questions would you ask him? What do you think your listeners would be interested to learn about his life and work? As a pair, craft your interview questions, and imagine what Mr Teoh's responses might be!

Question 1
Mr Teoh's reply
Question 2
Mr Teoh's reply
Question 3
Mr Teoh's reply
Question 4
Mr Teoh's reply
Question 5
Mr Teoh's reply

3. When you have your questions and Mr Teoh's likely answers ready, roleplay the interview. One of you will serve as interviewer, and the other will act as Mr Teoh. Record the conversation with your phone or any audio recorder.