An activity of "Clearing space debris"

"Clearing space debris" (page 12-13, What's Up March 2020) opens our eyes to a new problem — the need to clear outer space of litter from human space programmes. Read this fascinating article carefully before doing the activity below.

The timeline

The arrow represents a timeline. The dots on the arrow represent some significant years in space programmes. In the boxes connected to the dots, write a brief account of what happened in that year, using information from the article. In the light of this, as a class discuss the significance of year 2025.
