An activity "Once upon a time, people could get together like this"

Read "Once upon a time, people could get together like this" (page 7, What's Up June 2020). Here in Singapore, one of the best places to go to for shows and concerts is the Esplanade. There are free performances every day, and everyone is welcome to attend them.

1. Go to the Esplanade Offstage website at <https://www.esplanade.com/offstage/arts>.
2. On the Esplanade Offstage website
 - a. Click explore the arts.
 - b. Change the filter settings: at the filter section "Browse By", select "For Kids".
 - c. Then, click "Apply Filter".
3. Read an article or watch a performance of your choice. Make sure you find something that you like!
4. Once you are done with that, write a short letter to a close friend about it. Convince your friend to watch it, too.

Before you start writing, you might want to consider the following:

- a. What did you read or watch? What was its title?
 - b. What was it about?
 - c. If it was a performance, who were the performers?
 - d. Why are you recommending this article or performance?
 - Which parts did you enjoy the most?
 - What was so interesting about it?
 - Why do you think your friend would like it?
 - e. How or where can your friend read or watch this?
5. Draft your main points here. Then, on a fresh sheet of paper, write your letter. Either email it to your friend or give your friend a hard copy.

Dear _____,

Sincerely,
