Our Special Little Space at School

An activity of "Pretty view, but what are you stepping on?"

The article "Pretty view, but what are you stepping on?" (page 20, What's Up April 2021) tells us about a project to make a public space beautiful. Here in Singapore, we have many clean and green spaces. It takes a lot of planning and maintenance to take good care of our common spaces. Try planning and caring for a small space at your school.

PART A: In small groups

1. In your group, identify one area of your school that all of you would like to "adopt" for this project. It can be outdoors or indoors.
2. Discuss how your chosen space can be made greener and more beautiful. Jot down your ideas:

3. In the first box below, sketch that area as it is now. In the second box, sketch what your group would like to see that space become.

| Where our group's special little place would be: |  |
|--|--|
| The space as it is now                           | The space as we would like it to be      |
|          |  |

PART B: As a whole class

4. Have every group present its ideas and sketches with the whole class. As a class, vote for which one of the spaces your class would like to focus on.
5. With the help of your class teacher, explore whether it would be possible for your class to adopt that special little space, make it green and beautiful, and take care of it.
6. Share your experience with other What's Up readers all over Singapore — send an email to letters@whatsup.sg. Remember to include your full name(s), class, and school in your email.
