

Name: _____

Class: _____ Date: _____

Synthesise and Transform

An activity of "Nice picture, but is it really worth it?"

It is important to use different sentence structures in your writing to create a sense of variety. The sentences below are adapted from "Nice picture, but is it really worth it?" (Page 16, What's Up June 2021). Rewrite them into one sentence each using the helping words.

1. Tourists from all over the world visit Thailand's tiger parks. Their main goal? To post a photograph of themselves petting a ferocious tiger on social media.

_____ in order to _____
_____.

2. This involves taking the young cubs from their mothers at birth. The cubs are then kept and trained in dirty, cramped dens.

After being taken _____
_____.

3. We have the power to make a change. We can stop visiting wildlife attractions with cruel practices and encourage our family and friends to do the same.

We can _____ by not visiting _____
_____.

4. Tigers need raw red meat in their diet. Raw red meat contains nutrients necessary for a tiger's muscle growth and long-term health.

_____, which _____
_____.

5. They stopped selling tickets to cruel wildlife attractions around the world. They also created an education portal to teach travellers about animal welfare.

Besides stopping _____ they also _____.