

What Happened Next?

An activity of "The world's most loyal dog turns 100".

Hachiko, the faithful dog, waited for his master for 10 years. Read "The world's most loyal dog turns 100" (page 12, What's Up August 2023) and be touched by Hachiko's unwavering devotion.

- a) Number the following sentences in sequence based on the article, starting with "1" for the first sentence and "10" for the last. The first one has been done for you.

Actions	Sequence
In the morning, Hachiko would accompany Prof Ueno on his walk to the Shibuya station.
Then in the afternoon, Hachiko would go to the station to wait for his master's return from work.
So, he adopted an Akita puppy named Hachiko.
Prof Ueno wished he had a dog.	1
Hachiko waited at the station that afternoon but sadly returned home without Prof Ueno.
For the next 10 years, Hachiko went to the station every morning and afternoon to wait for his beloved master's return.
People from all over the world came to see Hachiko, the faithful dog.
A newspaper reporter published Hachiko's story.
One day, Prof Ueno passed away unexpectedly while at work.
Hachiko passed away in 1935.

- b) Reflect on which part of the story surprises you the most, and why. Share your thoughts with a friend.