

Synthesis and Transformation

An activity of "How a health worker helps people far away from hospitals and clinics"

Often, there are many ways to express an idea in words. The sentences below are adapted from "How a health worker helps people far away from hospitals and clinics" (Page 10, What's Up October 2024). Read the article. Then, rewrite each pair of sentences into one sentence each using the helping words given.

1. She does not get around in buses, trains or cars. She rides horses, and if horses are not available, then reindeer.

Instead of _____
_____ or _____.

2. The Dukha people are a small community of semi-nomadic reindeer herders. They follow the reindeer wherever they roam.

_____ who
_____.

3. Travelling through the forest can be hazardous. There is a chance of getting lost or running into bears and wolves.

_____ because
_____.

4. The Dukha people live at their camps in Tsagaan Nuur. The region is in the northwestern region of Mongolia.

_____ which
_____.

5. She says what keeps her going is the strength she finds in the elements around her.

She says, "What _____
_____."