

Contest: Dear Dancer Justina

An activity of "My dancing journey"

Read "Robots can dance but humans have more fun" (Page 12, What's Up April 2026). In the side bar, "My dancing journey", writer Justina Wu You tells us about her own love for dancing. Respond to what she has written. What would you like to say to Ms Wu?

1. Use this space to jot down, in any order, your thoughts and feelings about Ms Wu's dancing journey.

A large, hand-drawn scroll with horizontal lines for writing. The scroll is unrolled, showing a series of horizontal lines across its length. The edges of the scroll are slightly wavy, and there are small loops at the top and bottom, suggesting it was once rolled up. The drawing is simple and black-and-white.

2. Draft your letter in 200 words or less. Write in full sentences. Use the first person (i.e. "I", "me") so that your letter is a form of personal communication from you to Ms Wu.
3. Type out your letter in an email and send it to: ourcontest@whatsup.sg. Please include your full name, class, and school.

Deadline: 15 May 2026.
All the best for the contest!
